Editorial

The biannual journal "Vidigya: The journal of legal awareness" deals with the sensitive and vulnerable issues which are thought provoking in the present society and need the human concern in the real sense.

Vidigya attempts to aaequately publicise and inform the masses on the sensitive issues of paramount importance. It even tries to highlight the victim support system and measures taken there of .It attempts to shun the misuse of law by disseminating the righteous and legal course in the issues of social concern This issue raises umpteen societal concerns like juvenile system, live in relationship, human rights in Tibet, which imminently needs the due attention of the people. This issue also focuses on women and children, those susceptible to suppression and suffering from legal poverty' that restricts and impairs there ability to seek justice. It highlights the constitutional provision to protect the rights, penal provisions for violations there of, criminal procedure followed in the courts and the evidences essential to support the victim etc.

Most of the people in general are skeptical about the motives of the law and the verdict. All the goodness of law is being misappropriated by the people with vested interest by indulging in unnecessary litigations. In such a skeptical world, it becomes obligatory to highlight the image of our legal system. This issue is sincere attempt in this direction to pervade the legal awareness among the masses.

I am highly thankful to the authors of this issue ,which tries to handle the most delicate and sensitive issues in a very sublime manner. I am also thankful to all the members of the editorial team for their painstaking effort in the editing and reviewing process.
